

Spring 2023 Integrative Biology Seminars

January 20	Dr. Lindsey Bruckerhoff OSU – NREM Host: Jeyasingh	The new abnormal: Exploring water management options to conserve native fish in the face of climate change
February 3	Dr. Monique Simon OSU- Integrative Biology Host: Moen	Leveraging biomechanical modeling comparative methods to understand the evolution of locomotion in frogs
February 10	Dr. Michael J. Lannoo Indiana University School of Medicine Host: Reichert	The Life and Death, and Life, of North America's Most Secretive Frog
February 17	Dr. Ben Lovely University of Louisville Host: Buckley	A tale of alcohol and three cells: the CONTEXT of epithelial morphogenesis
March 3	Dr. Adema Ribic University of Virginia Host: McCullagh	Nature, nurture, and synapses in between March 10	Dr. Massimo Pigliucci City College of New York Host: Stephens Ewing Seminar	Science, pseudoscience, and philosophy: the importance of bullshit
March 24	Dr. Sinlan Poo Curator of Research at Memphis Zoo Host: ZoGSS	From Basic Science to Applied Conservation: A Glimpse into Zoo-based Research
April 14	Dr. Eileen Hebets University of Nebraska-Lincoln Host: Reichert	Deciphering the evolutionary patterns of spider songs and dances

Everyone is Welcome!

3:30pm In Person(103 LSW) & Zoom

Email taylor.neighbors@okstate.edu for zoom information

